Republican State Ticket.

GALLIPOLIS, JUNE 24, 1875.

For Governor, R. B. HAYES, of Sandusky. Lieuterant Governor, THOS. L. YOUNG, of Hamilton

Auditor, JAMES WILLIAMS, of Franklin. Attorney-General, JOHN LITTLE, of Greene.

J. MINOR MILLIKEN, of Butler. Member of Board of Public Works. PETER THATCHER, of Cuyahoga dredth anniversary of the battle of Bunker Hill was celebrated in Boston. The city was awakened by cannon, bells and the whistling of locomotives bringing people to the cele-bration. It was estimated that over three hundred thousand visitors were in the city. Flago, otronmer decorations and inscriptions were everywhere to be seen. Every place of note during the battle was inscribed appropriately. Among the distinguished visitors were Vice-President Wilson, Gens. Sherman and Burnside, and Chief-justice Waite. The celebration was grand in the extreme and exceeded the highest anticipations of the city of Boston.

THE Democrats held their State Convention at Columbus, last Thurs day. The attendance was fair, and there was little show of enthusiasm. The arranged programme was carried out as follows, to-wit: Governor, William Allen; Lieut. Gov., Sam. Cary; for Supreme Judge, T. Q. Ashburn; for Auditor, E. M. Greene; for Treasurer, John Schreiner; Attorney General, E. B. Powell; Member of Board of Public Works, H. E. O'Hagan.

cratic increase; that the Republican voters still outnumber the democrats in the State, and that all that is needed to insure the election of Gen Hayes is a full Republican vote. A full vote, therefore, is what Republicans should work for.

THE democratic papers talk of the "immense popularity" of Gov. Allen. If it be so, figures lie. Allen, in 1873, received 214,654 votes, while in 1871 the democratic vote for Governor was 218,105. In 1874 the democratic vote reached 238,406. Thus the figures prove that Allen is the most unpopular man the democrats have voted for for years, in truth since 1867. It is well enough to be correctly informed in regard to these things.

An earthquake shock was felt Friday morning in various parts of Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. It was experienced in Cincinnati about 20 minutes before 10 o'clock, and lasted about five seconds, causing the buildings to rock in a gentle, undulating manner from north to south. No damage done.

The Bitter Partisan. Col. VANCE, of our city, was made emporary chairman of the democratic State Convention. He read a speech. It was bitterly partisanthe Republicans were all corrupt, and there was no virtue in the country except in democratic hearts. We make the following extract, that Re-

The party in power is rotten to the corruption stalks uncore; unblushing corruption states and the checked through every department of the public service; frauds so gigantic that as yet their existence is doubted, simply because honest men can not con ceive of such stupendous rascality, have been committed by high officials of the government, some of whom are yet retained in office. While our civil service is a national disgrace, our for-eign policy is contemptible and pusilani-mous. From the Department of State at Washington to the remotest revenue ffice in our broad domain, private, personal and corrupt practices have become the order of the day. The administramanaged in the interest of economy and honesty, has degenerated into a system of peculation to enrich those who are public funds. The henchmen of the intrusted with the disbursement of the Republican party, wherever they hold office, seem to have read the hand-writing on the wall, and the haste they exting on the wall, and the haste they ex-hibit in enriching themselves, without regard to the chance of exposure and the discredit they bring on their party, shows that the most interested adhe-rents of the administration know that in a short time their lease of power and apportunities for fraud will pass away

The man who made these severe and unwarrantable charges, had not a word to say against the late democratic Legislature, which excused members from censure after it was proven that they had sold their votes for $100 each! Where is the virtue in such a case?

THE platform of the Ohio democracy is a marvelous production. Take a specimen. It pronounces against a division of the school fund, and in the same breath denounces the Republican platform for doing the same thing, characterizing it "as an insult to the intelligence of the people." The latter nullifies the former, and makes the whole thing supremely ridiculous and nonsensical. It is a cheat.

WE knew Gen. Sam. Cary to be a in a new role. Certain parties in Cincinnati have sued him for fraud. It appears that the General went to REFORM DEMOCRACY has reached its | Colorado, as agent or trustee, to buy tween himself and his associates or confederates. The suit is brought to make him disgorge.

THE Democratic platform constructed at Columbus, last Thursday gether false. Take the figures. In declares against all so-called "sump 1872 the democrats of Ohio cast 244,- tuary laws and against interference in social habits and manners, which are not criminal." It means that all liquor legislation, and all laws regulating the observance of the Sabbath, should be repealed, and in both cases every one allowed to do as he pleases. That is Ohio democracy in this the last quarter of the nineteenth century. It had better emigrate to the unenlightened regions of Central Africa.

Either make them prepare themselves or leave it for some other field where indolence and vice are ential to success. People will not risk the'r lives by calling in an incom-petent physician, yet they daily imperil the eternal interests of their children by sending them to ignorant and vicious teachers. We are glad to say that the number of this class is being diminished yearly and we hope soon to see it entire-ly crushed out. The only way we can make our schools answer the full purpose for which they were intended, is to raise them to a higher standard, both intellectually and morally. To do this we must, as teachers, embrace every op-portunity offered by which we may advance in our chosen profession.
